Maria Kaltsogianni, Sofia Kapogianni, Thodoris Chondrelis.

Career Path Monitoring Research 2020

The Career Path Monitoring Research 2020 survey, conducted by the Career, Liaison & Innovation Office of University of West Attica:

- ❑ hard evidence about the relationship between personal & educational characteristics, education choices & experience and access to opportunities in labour market.

Through undergraduate study into careers: the survey

- AMBITIOUS-tracking large sample of respondents.
 - INNOVATIVE-Web-based, sample drawn from known population so biases can be taken account of, monitors decisions and attitudes in real time, not retrospectively.
 - COMPREHENSIVE-investigate the parameters of integrating graduates in different in each case labor market, taking into account both quantitative (e.g. employment rate) and qualitatively criteria (e.g. job satisfaction).
 - INDEPENDENT-impartial relevant analysis

What I'm going to talk about...

- Objectives and Contribution, Survey population, Methodology, questionnaire structure.
- Analysis and Results-Who are the respondents? What is the progress of graduates (employees and non-employees) – bases on quantitative and qualitative criteria - the given period of the survey? What is revealed about graduate employment/unemployment, graduate pay and earnings? How far are graduates obtaining skills and knowledge that enhance their career opportunities and leads to employment that uses (rewards) their knowledge & skills? How should we redesign, the curriculum, in order to develop an effective relationship between Career, Liaison & Innovation Office – University of West Attica - Alumni - Professional Associations for the effective promotion of graduates in the labor market?

Analyze the existing differentiations in graduates' attitudes towards employment, detect and record graduate's personal & educational characteristics effects on their employability issues.

- Original empirical data collected through electronic structured questionnaire answered on line, from 542 graduates from 2/3/2018-2020(stratified random sampling) corresponding to 6-2-5 broader specialties and 26-9-27 professions.
 - Quantitative Research & Qualitative Insights.
