Title of presentation	Introduction to Scratch Jr for early ages: Learning to program through storytelling
Description of presentation	Scratch Jr is a variant of the Scratch programming environment. It was developed for the early years of school (K-2). In this training, we will present an award-winning educational scenario where teachers are trained in using Scratch Jr for programming with their students, through a project-based approach that enables students to create their own interactive stories using code. The presentation will be held in Greek.
